The Company Management Audio Ohm S.r.l., aware of the importance of the protection of workers' health and safety in the workplace in carrying out all the activities within its competence, undertakes to consider this policy for Health and Safety in the workplace as an integral part of its activity and as a strategic commitment with respect to the more general aims of the entire company activity.

In this perspective, Audio Ohm S.r.l. is committed to:

- update the Risk Assessment Document;
- periodically review the objectives and related security implementation programs;
- prevent accidents and damage to the health of workers, including third party contractors, by committing to continuous improvement of safety and health in the workplace;
- disclose information linked to accidents and injuries;
- provide the necessary human resources, specialist expertise and technical and financial resources;
- Respect the applicable legal provisions and other requirements to which the organisation subscribes that directly or indirectly relate to the specific area of occupational health and safety protection;
- continuously improve its performance in terms of health and safety at work, with particular reference to the well-being and comfort of its workers;
- communicating the environmental and safety culture to employees;
- to define effective communication systems that orient compliance with security procedures at all levels of the company;
- to promote the participation of all workers in the process of risk prevention and health and safety protection towards colleagues and third parties;
- select its suppliers in relation to their compliance with the principles of health and safety protection of its workers and third parties.

For all this reasons, the General Management is committed to taking an active role in PROMOTING all activities that have an influence on WORKERS' SAFETY and HEALTH and on the impact that the company can generate on the surrounding environment through the dissemination at all levels of the concepts presented here.

The Safety Policy is communicated to all employees through notice board posting and dissemination by other means and/or through meetings involving staff.
